Ah, got it. Later in the week is actually worse for me, since we have the NGA event and I'll be staffing my governor. But we will find a way to call in either way. Travel, though, is not likely to happen at this point. Travel support resources would be great! :)

Unfortunately the east coast response to the NGA idea wasn't strong. People weren't going to the energy mtg so the option to piggy back wasn't there. So my note below still refers to DC but later in the week. Sounds like timing is less an issue for you than distance so you won't join either way? We need to raise some travel support resources!

I'd be pretty psyched if we could have the meeting in Denver during the NGA event on 10/5-6. We don't have the budget to fly to the east coast on a regular basis.

Hey friends, I'm polling to see if you're more inclined to be able to attend a USCA event if we did Oct 5 or 6? I'm not psyched to fly to DC on Sunday for a Monday mtg and it's not practical to try to get there mid day for a half day mtg. And i have mtgs with Gov Tues and Wed. I'm reluctant to propose now since most folks seem good for 10.2, on the other hand they're all east coasters. Thoughts?

Ditto. Thank you all for welcoming NC the USCA. We appreciate all of your work thus far, including organizing the events this week. Look forward to our substantive work together.

Have we settled on Oct 2 in DC? Confirming this soon will help w travel on my end.

Now that we have a few hours to celebrate, time to keep the Alliance MOJO going.

I'm proposing an Oct 2 mtg in DC. I can host or we can get a big room in the Hall of States Building depending on how many people (likely we will need a room). Originally I know Oct in colorado was suggested but some of us had conflicts and couldn't make it. In addition, Angela is heading to CO on 3rd and said she could make DC work on 2nd. I think MA, WA (chris), CA (dan/not sure about ammie) and NC said DC worked better for them so I hope the 2nd works.

Pls let michelle and I know if you can make it then and we will see if we have a quorum. I'm sure we could figure out a conf call or video conf for Scott or any other person in a conflict.

If we can get a good turn out we can try a different date.

Hi all: thank you all for helping to make today a success.

On social media, there were multiple drafts of the report flying around so apologies that this pack is 1 percentage point off. I don't think there is a need to retract tweets already posted but a good flag for content moving forward.

On media, the Bloomberg article is out - <https://www.bloomberg.com/news/articles/2017-09-20/despite-trump-states-still-on-pace-to-reach-paris-climate-goals>

The final press release will be added to the website shortly and will share a roundup of clips in the next day or two.

Best,

Ben
